Catch the K-Wave at the Newark Museum's Second Sunday May 13 from noon to 5 pm

Newark: Celebrate Asian Pacific American Heritage Month on May 13 at the Newark Museum with Second Sunday activities exploring the breadth of K-Wave culture from K-Pop to K-Food to K-Fashion, with inspiration from the Museum's Arts of Asia collection. Activities will take place from noon to 5 pm and are free with Museum admission. The Museum is located at 49 Washington St., Newark.

Second Sunday event highlights include:

- Korean pop music factory with workshops and live performances.
- K-Fashion with hands-on workshops and presentations.
- Korean cuisine presented in a live K-Food cooking demo.
- Workshop on K-Beauty skin care regimens.
- Korean nail art inspired by the Korean art collection.
- A discussion on the state of K-Wave and the future of this global movement with influencers from various areas of Korean culture.
- MakerSPACE drop-ins, gallery tours, planetarium shows and more.

Second Sunday is presented by The Horizon Foundation for New Jersey with additional support provided by The Korea Foundation and United Airlines. The event will be hosted by Heather Choi. For more information, visit newarkmuseum.org.
